THE CONFEDERATE FLAGS.

THE FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT ON WHICH THEY ARE RETURNED.

Adjutant General Drum's Order and His Opinion on the Subject—The History of Each Emblem to Be Written—A Protest From the State of Ohio—Notes.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—As stated in these dispatches on Sunday last it has been determined, upon the recommendation of Adj. Gen. Drum, of the army, to return to the southern states all their flags, standards and colors which were captured by the Union army during the late war. The formal announcement of the purpose of the administration in the matter is contained in the following circular letter which has been addressed by the adjutant general of the army to the governor of each state:

"Sir—The president of the United States having approved the recommendation that all flags in the custody of the war department be returned to the authorities of the respective states in which the regiments which bore them were organized for such final disposition as they may determine, I am instructed by the honorable secretary of war to make you, in the name of the war department, a tender of the flags now in this office belonging to the late volunteer organization of the state of —.

"In discharging this pleasant duty, I beg you will please advise me of your wishes in this matter. It is the intention, in returning each flag to give its history as far as it is possible to do so, stating the circumstances of its capture and recovery. I have the honor to be very respectfully, your obedient servant,

R. C. DRUM,

"Adjutant General."

Referring to the issuance of this circular, Gen. Drum says: "We are going to return the flags to all the states north and south and I am now having full lists made of all these trophies in possession of the department. In a short time we shall have the whole collection so assorted and repaired, that we shall be ready to forward to every state in the Union whatever flags belonging to state volunteers fell into the hands of the Federal army and in the possession of the war department. I am having a complete inventory of them made out, with written statements to tell briefly, as far as known, the history of each trophy and the story of how it came to be captured. All this literature will be completed, and the trophies will be ready to be forwarded to the owners in a few weeks.

Gen. Drum, when asked if the president expressed his approval of the proposition in writing, did not give a direct answer, but intimated that when the list of flags returned and their histories were given to the public, a letter from President Cleveland on the subject might be made public. Gen. Drum, during the course of further conversation on the subject, said: "This action is not due to any pressure or any suggestion from outside. It had been once contemplated in the department for some considerable time, and, you see, every now and then we were receiving inquiries from various states about the flags, in which they were particularly interested, and requests to have them returned. These requests generally came from the northern states, and from time to time as the requests were made they were gratified. At length it occurred to the department officials that it would be a good thing to return them all at once. The law relating to flags captured from the enemies of the United States did not apply to flags taken in the civil war. On April 18, 1864, after the last war with England, congress passed an act providing that the secretary of war shall, from time to time, cause to be collected and transmitted to him at the seat of government all such flags, standards and colors as are taken by the army from the enemies of the United States, but it was never intended that flags taken in internecine strife should be treated like trophies captured from a foreign enemy. After the summer spent abroad Mr. and Mrs. Probasco will return to their mansion in Clifton.

Miss Grace Sherlock, the bride, is the eldest daughter of Thomas Sherlock, and is thirty-three. She is a lady of the highest qualifications of heart and brain, and well fitted to shine in the highest circle of society. After the summer spent abroad Mr. and Mrs. Probasco will return to their mansion in Clifton.

return to their homes in peace. Those of us who had seen four years of war buried all animosity and hatred under that old apple tree at Appomattox and instantly became brothers and friends. "Why, he continued, before Gen. Grant's order to supply the defeated army with rations could be executed, the Union soldiers threw their knapsacks and haversacks upon the ground and divided their rations with their former enemies. A better illustration of the friendly feeling that existed between the two armies could not have been given. Now, as Gen. Grant said that the side arms, accoutrements, and in some cases, the horses of the Confederates should be returned to their respective owners, I do not see why the old regimental and company flags should not also go back to their original owners."

Discussing Vacant Positions.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Although it is possible that the president may have a surprise in store for the public, the belief that Secretary Lamar will be appointed to the supreme bench gains much credit. The assertion is freely made that it is a foregone conclusion. So widespread is this belief that already brisk canvassing is going on concerning who is likely to succeed Secretary Lamar. Quite a number of political prophets incline to the opinion that Senator Ransom, of North Carolina, will get the berth, while others predict that Assistant Secretary Muldrow will be promoted. It may be mentioned that Senator Ransom had a protracted interview with the president Tuesday, and yesterday was closeted with Secretary Lamar.

President Appointments.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The president today made the following appointments: John G. Nelson, of Minnesota, to be receiver of public moneys at Fergus Falls, Minn.; James Greely, of Minnesota, to be register of the land office, at Redwood Falls, Minn.

WINTER AND SPRING.

Two Well Known Families United in Wedlock at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, June 17.—The most notable and at the same time quiet and exclusive society event of the year was the marriage at 10:30 a.m. of Henry Probasco, mayor of Clifton, and Miss Grace Sherlock, daughter of Thomas Sherlock, of that village. Mr. Probasco is one of the most generous and public-spirited men. A princely gift of his to the city is the Tyler-Davidson fountain. He is well known as an art connoisseur. His collection of pictures was recently sold in New York for $169,000. He lives in a patrimonial residence in Clifton, overlooking the Millcreek valley. It is one of the finest in the United States, and has been visited by tourists from all over the world. Mr. Probasco is a self-made man, having begun life as a clerk in a hardware house in Cincinnati. He accumulated a fortune by honest trade as a member of the celebrated firm of Tyler Davidson & Co. He is yet comparatively a young man man, being only sixty-seven years.

Miss Grace Sherlock, the bride, is the eldest daughter of Thomas Sherlock, and is thirty-three. She is a lady of the highest qualifications of heart and brain, and well fitted to shine in the highest circle of society. After the summer spent abroad Mr. and Mrs. Probasco will return to their mansion in Clifton.

Row at a Picnic.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—While the colored schools of Baden and Lowell, the northern suburbs of this city, where holding a picnic in O'Fallon Grove yesterday, a gang of negro roughs visited the grounds and got into trouble with the refreshment booth-keeper, whose beer they drank and then refused to pay for it. When Adams, the booth-keeper, remonstrated, the rowdies assaulted him with clubs and drew pistols. Adams went home, procured a Winchester, returned and fired promiscuously at the gang, two of whom, Jeff Smith and Henry Hall, were seriously wounded, the latter perhaps fatally, being shot in the left breast. A woman and child are said to have been shot.

West Virginia Finances.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 17.—The general school fund collections for the year ending June 1, inst., have been footed up by the state auditor, and show the distributable school fund for this year to be $402,396, the largest ever distributed in any one year in the history of the state. The increase of $100,000 to the increased income is on account of the favorable termination of several tax suits, as well as by advanced value of property, the building of railroads and increase of population. Had the legislature made appropriations at its last session, the state would not owe a dollar to anyone.

St. Louis to Try a Puritan Sunday.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—Preparations have been made here for the putting into effect of the Sunday law, as provided by the legislature last winter. Under this law all saloons, beer gardens, billiard rooms, shooting and bowling galleries, theaters and base ball parks must close. The police commissioners have instructed the chief of police to rigorously enforce the law. The saloon interest has held two or three meetings and decided to close all the saloons in the city next Sunday, the day the law goes into effect, except Schnader's garden, which, in order to test the constitutionality of the law.

Up to the present the president has not signed a formal order for the restoration of the captured rebel flags. Adj. Gen. Drum is reported to have suggested the desirability of returning them and the president said that he did not know of any reason why they should not be restored. Those having intimate relations with the White House say that the president had no idea of the scope of Gen. Drum's suggestion, and that he will doubtless never sign the order now that he sees the sentiment of the country in regard to the subject.

To the proposed return of the flags is the all absorbing topic of discussion in public places.

Representative Hatch, of Missouri, who was one of the Confederate officers present at Appomattox, on the occasion of the surrender of Lee to Grant, says he was present at the second interview between Gens. Grant and Lee, when the conditions of the surrender were agreed upon, and Gen. Grant authorized the southern forces to retain their side arms and other accoutrements, and

THE RUSSIAN MONARCH.

A STARTLING STORY OF HIS MENTAL AND PHYSICAL CONDITION.

It is a Well Known Fact to Those Nearest Him That He is a Sufferer of Insanity and Delirium Tremens—Russian Monopoly—Other Happenings Abroad.

LONDON, June 17.—A British officer, who recently paid a visit to Russia, tells a startling story of the mental and physical condition of the czar in accounting for the erratic foreign policy of Russia. Alexander III, he says, shortly after the assassination of his father, had recourse to stimulants in order to nerve himself sufficiently to meet the real and imaginary dangers which beset him, and the habit rapidly became one of necessity rather than choice.

From this point began what would have been to a man in private life his downward career, but the divinity that erects and maintains a wall kept and evergreen hedge around a sovereign also dulls the sense of his subjects to indifference as to whether he is a drunkard or not. This, however, the czar of Russia is, a hopeless and oftentimes a helpless sort. Among those nearest to him it is well known but never mentioned except in whispers that he has several times suffered from that most frightful of all species of insanity, delirium tremens, and the narrator alleges, his cruelty to those who were so unfortunate as to come under his hand upon those occasions would have appealed to the finer sensibilities of the King of Dahomey and caused that fiendish monarch to shed tears of compassion. In his lucid intervals he is reasonable and even sagacious, but when under the influence of champagne or brandy, which two liquors most delight the imperial palate, not even his ministers, and least of all his wife and children, can restrain his tendency to imperil his personal safety by exposing himself to the attacks of secret foes in his ungovernable recklessness.

It is told of this imperial maniac that on one occasion M. De Giers was driven from the czar's presence with language unfit to be heard in the lowest haunts of infamy, after having been summoned by his sovereign to report upon some matter affecting Russia's foreign policy, and that the czar's conduct so outraged M. De Giers that he was only induced to retain his office at the earnest entreaty of friends and upon the czar's subsequent apology. Upon the slightest intimation of the details of such outbreaks, which are growing more and more frequent, it is the fashion to mention that this minister or that court official is about to resign on the ground of ill health or for the purpose of accepting some other position, but to those acquainted with the true condition of the czar's moral health these reports invariably have the same significance and had one-third of the commands issued peremptorily by the emperor when he was too drunk to know or care what he was doing been carried out Russia would have long ago been at war with every power in Europe.

Ever since the accession of Alexander III to the throne of Russia, it has seemed quite safe to predict that he would ultimately meet the death at the hands of the nihilists, whose destroying power also created his own. This prediction may be fulfilled, but it seems vastly more likely that the emperor will die by the hand of some outraged and infuriated member of his household or government, if he does not soon succeed in forestalling that fate by joining his father through the medium of the bottle.

Lack of Experience.

LONDON, June 17.—Clifford Lloyd, who was special magistrate in Ireland during Earl Spencer's administration as lord lieutenant, says in a letter published to-day, that the late disgraceful and outrageous scenes enacted at Bodkye, at which everyone looks with a degree of horror, are to be attributed to the lack of experience and pacific policy of Sir Redvers Buller, the under secretary. Mr. Lloyd also criticizes the local magistrate and the military officer in charge of the soldiery as civic administrator. The writer protests that Michael Davitt and all other agitators of his stamp should be imprisoned, and that the present outrages could be easily nipped in the bud by firm men, who knew how to deal sternly and were aware of the powers that the law conferred upon them.

The Queen Alarmed.

LONDON, June 17.—The queen is greatly alarmed by the announcement of the Central News that the police had discovered a dynamite plot to be executed during the jubilee ceremonies, and the reports concerning the movements of prominent plotters abroad. The home office officials are much incensed over the disclosures made by the police officials concerning the plot. The latter excuse themselves on the ground that they made known their knowledge of the plot with a view of deterring the desperadoes. Acting under superior orders, however, the police authorities now declare that they are only aware of the movements of Patrick Casey and his followers in Paris and that they have them under close surveillance.

Russian Monopoly.

LONDON, June 17.—The Times' St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs that a large tract of country near Merv has been purchased by a Russian company with the object of establishing thereon a cotton plantation. It is already certain that the government of Russia will permit no foreign enterprise to compete with the Russian company as an American company was refused permission to locate where the Russian company had no difficulty in obtaining land and other facilities. The correspondent also states that Russian petroleum is being extensively supplied to the Persian market.

Glasgow Celebrating.

GLASGOW, June 17.—The queen's jubilee was celebrated here to-day. A grand memorial religious service was held in the cathedral. Six thousand poor people were given a dinner at the public expense. One of the features of the celebration was the review of 10,000 troops. A number of banquets and balls will be given in the evening.

Awaiting O'Brien.

QUEENSTOWN, June 17.—Messrs. Harrington, Gill and Kenny, Parnellite members of parliament, and Mr. Leamy, ex-Parnellite member of parliament, have arrived here, and are awaiting the arrival of the steamship Adriatic, with Mr. William O'Brien on board.

Blaine Reaches the Other Shore.
LONDON, June 17.—The North German Lloyd company's steamer Ems, on which Mr. James G. Blaine is a passenger, arrived off the Lizard at 6 o'clock this morning from New York.

Eight Hundred Houses Burned.
LONDON, June 17.—The city of Botnschang in Roumania has been visited by fire. Eight hundred houses are reported to have been burned, and seven persons killed and burned.

A Barbecue Suggested.

It was suggested by many of the leading Democrats at the "Lexington barbecue," that the chairmen of the various counties in this, the Twelfth, campaign district should at once meet, and make some arrangements to hold a barbecue at a point convenient to the majority of the counties composing the district. The camp meeting ground at Park's Hill and the woods at Johnson Junction were suggested as suitable places. The matter should be attended to at once, as the election is drawing near.

The Flag Question Settled.

OLD citizens of Fayette County say they never saw such a crowd at Lexington, as was present at the Democratic burgoo and barbecue. The next Governor of Kentucky was given a grand ovation.

THE Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company has been doing some more "scooping." A syndicate was trying to buy the charter of the proposed Frankfort, Georgetown and Paris Railroad for $5,000, but the L. and N. folks quietly stepped in and took the property at $15,000. The new road is to be built at once.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer says: "There is a disposition all over the country to make the coming Fourth of July a momentous one." Maysville must not be behind her sister cities. The unveiling of the soldier's monument will attract a big crowd here, and the flags and bunting should be gotten out, and the cannon must be loaded up for the occasion. Let's decorate and celebrate.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. ### Amusing Social Affection.

I can scarce imagine a more amusing social affection than that which excited my attention the other evening at a small dinner party given by some intensely swell people on Commonwealth avenue. It was a very formal affair—rather stiff, indeed, than otherwise—but one feature of the entertainment was sufficiently remarkable to merit description. There are two children in the family, a girl and boy of 10 and 11 years respectively. Very naturally, they were not given seats at the table, but they were present, nevertheless. The cherubs stood at either end of the festive board throughout the long repast, the boy leaning upon his mother's shoulder and the girl reclining gracefully upon that of her father. The attitude of each was studied—doubtless the result of fatiguing drill—and, at intervals, they joined in the general conversation, somewhat as follows:

The hostess would introduce the discussion of Mr. Browning's poetry, and, after each one of the guests had expressed an opinion, favorable or otherwise, regarding that gentleman's verses, she would refer the matter laughingly to her "little daughter," and the latter, being primed with an appropriate speech, would spring the same, with charming naïveté, upon the assembled company. Of course, the infantile bon mot would elicit applause, whereat the artless ingenue would hide a modest blush upon her papa's bosom. Next came the boy's turn to utter an impromptu witticism—received with such expressions as "Doosid cleavah, by Jove!" etc.—and so on, until the ladies took their departure, when the kindergarten was retired to the nursery, and the men, with a sigh of relief, betook themselves to their cigars.—Boston Globe.

Obliging Mexican Clerks.

Mexican ladies even shop in their carriages, and compel the clerks to bring out to the curbside the goods they wished to look at. A row of carriages jammed close together before a fashionable store, and a row of bare-headed salesmen bargaining with the occupants, is a common sight, while other clerks rush to and fro in a frenzy of excitement, bringing out box after box and piece after piece of goods, matching shades, samples, trimmings, etc. Only servants and foreigners stand at the counters to buy. In a few of the stores the merchants have fitted up private parlors, where ladies may sit, if they like, and have the goods brought to them—but even this is considered "questionable." Shopping is a serious undertaking here, for merchants never classify their goods, but keep silk and cottons, woollens and linens mixed up together on their shelves in the wildest confusion. If you step into a store and ask for a pair of gloves nobody has any idea where the kind you require are to be found, and a grand search commences. The obliging clerks tumble over drawers in which are shoes and ribbons, bustles, laces, perfumery, and what not until the desired articles are discovered.—Cor. Troy Times.

No Blood Spilled.

MACON, Ga., June 17.—Banks Hill and C. D. Little, young men belonging to two of the best families in the city, went outside the city limits to fight a duel yesterday afternoon. Little knew that the pistols were not loaded with bullets, but Hill took the matter seriously and bravely went through. Two shots were fired when Little fell and Hill wanted a pistol to kill himself. He was then told of the joke. On their return to the city both men shook hands and are now friends.

Worrying the Prohibitionists.

FLEMINGSBURG, Ky., June 17.—Last September prohibition was voted in Fleming county, making the penalty very severe. Now H. M. Stitt, a hotel proprietor, will shortly begin the importation of foreign liquors, which the government guarantees the privilege of selling, protecting all persons from state or local prohibitory laws if the imported article is sold in unbroken packages.

A Monument to Ex-President Arthur.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Voluntary subscriptions toward a monument to be erected in this city in honor of the late President Arthur have been received for some time by Mr. O. D. Baldwin, of the Fourth National bank, and now amounts to $15,000. The monument will probably be located in Madison square.

No Consolidation.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Jay Gould was today asked as to the truth of the many rumors recently of the consolidation of the Western Union and the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph companies. He said: "It would not be a judicious thing to do. If we combine and raise rates we will simply stimulate renewed opposition. We now have a good organization as we can possibly get and there would be no good object attained in creating a new one."

Judge Field on the Situation.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Judge Field, of the United States supreme court, said yesterday that Mr. Cleveland is undoubtedly the Democratic favorite for the next presidency, with Governor Hill a close second. The Labor party, however, might spoil all calculations. If the party organized throughout the country as well as it did in New York a year ago, no one could predict the result.

Cokers Return to Work.

PITTSBURGH, June 17.—It is rumored to-day that the Hungarian cokers employed at the Jimtown and the Sterling coke ovens have returned to work at the old wages. It is also stated that all of the Hungarian cokers in the region, to the number of 4,000, are preparing to resume work on Monday next.

Shot the Top of His Head Off.

In Washington dwell two young women who own so much bric-a-brac that they have moved into a larger house to accommodate it. Among other rare things is a screen, such as is used in eastern harems, made of carved wood, with curious little windows which open and shut like doors.—

THAT PARDON

Of Dr. Logan and R. M. McClurg—Governor Knott's Reasons For Granting It.

Mention has been made of the pardon of Dr. Logan and Morgan McClurg, and their release from the Lexington jail, where they had been confined for several weeks.

The following proclamation of the Governor sets forth in full the reasons for the pardon. The proclamation releasing Mr. McClurg is in similar terms to that relating to Dr. Logan, which latter is as follows:

J. PROCTOR KNOTT, GOVERNOR OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY.

To all who shall see these presents greeting:

WHEREAS, It has been made known to me that at the February term 1887, of Rowan County Circuit Court, three indictments were found against Henry Logan and others, one for confederating and combining to kill Z. T. Young, A. E. Cole and Wm. Ramey, and one for confederating and combining to kill Z. T. Young, A. W. Young and A. E. Cole, upon each of which the bail of said Logan was fixed at $3,000, amounting in all to the sum of $9,000 in default of which said Logan is now confined in Lexington jail; and

WHEREAS, It has been shown to my satisfaction that persons disposed to become sureties for the appearance of said Logan to answer said indictments have been intimidated and prevented therefrom by threats of assassination, and that in view of the reign of lawlessness and terror prevailing in said county, and especially of the recent murder of his two sons, under the pretext of executing legal process upon them, it will be difficult, if not impossible, for said Logan to procure the testimony of witnesses in his favor, counsel for his defense, or sureties on recognizance if he should be tried at the ensuing term of said court, and that said indictments are found upon the testimony of a pretended co-conspirator, who stands indicted already for various crimes in other counties, and that for divers other reasons he can not have a fair and impartial trial upon said indictments.

Now, therefore, I, J. Proctor Knott, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, as aforesaid, by virtue of the power in me vested by the Constitution, do hereby grant unto him, the said Henry Logan, a full and free pardon for each and all of the offenses charged in said indictments, and each of them, and hereby release and discharge him from all liability therefor, and hereby order his release and discharge from imprisonment on account thereof, hereby enjoining and commanding all officers and other persons to have due respect for these presents.

In testimony whereof, I have caused an impression of the Great Seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed at Frankfort, this, the 1st day of June, A. D., 1887.

J. PROCTOR KNOTT,

For the Governor,
J. A. MCKENZIE, Secretary of State.

Pleasant Evening in Chester.

A very pleasant entertainment given by the pupils of "Chester Academy" was enjoyed by its patrons and friends at the residence of Professor W. W. Richeson last evening.

A stage had been erected at the east wing of the house, and was tastefully decorated with flowers and plants. When the curtain was drawn, a beautiful tableau was presented, the pupils being arranged according to their size.

The exercises opened with prayer, which was followed by songs, readings, recitations and the rendition of several plays. The entertainment was thoroughly appreciated by the audience.

This institution is under the care of Miss Isa Richeson, a daughter of the venerable Professor W. W. Richeson, and few of our people are aware that in our adjoining suburb of Chester so good advantages are enjoyed for the education of the younger girls and boys. A few boarders are accommodated, and all who know the young ladies in charge will bear out the statement that in no family will children who are entrusted to the care of others receive more affectionate and considerate attention than in "Chester Academy."

Hawkes' Wonderful Glasses.

As we read Mr. Hawkes' testimonials from Governors, Senators, Legislators, men of science and distinguished citizens throughout the United States, who testify to having had their eyes improved, and some restored, by the use of his celebrated glasses, we realize that a glass that will reflect such brilliancy of light as to enable the wearer to see as in youth, and to read for hours either by candle or other artificial light, surely is to be desired by all spectacle wearers. All eyes fitted and the fit guaranteed at the drug store of Chenoweth & Dimmitt, Maysville, Ky. Every pair warranted.

Hop at the High School.

A commencement hop was given at the High School last evening by the pupils of the rooms presided over by Prof. Kinney and Miss Harrison. A large crowd was present, and the merry dance went on till a late hour. Lunch was served during the evening. It was a pleasant wind-up of the session, and was greatly enjoyed by all who were there.

Ex-Maysvillians Caught.

By reference to our dispatches it will be seen that the firm of Hord Bro. & Co. are among those caught by the break in wheat at Chicago. They failed yesterday for $10,000. The Hord Brothers are ex-Maysvillians, and it is to be hoped their embarrassment will prove only temporary.

Stock and Crops.

It is said that Frank Prague, of Covington, will make $100,000 by the present boom in tobacco. He had 3,000,000 pounds on hand.

The Paris Kentuckian-Citizen says Overby & Co. will probably clear $10,000 on the tobacco they have in that place.

On the farm of W. H. Roe, near Orangeburg, the other day, John W. Coulter found a bunch of eighty-six stalks of wheat, the product of one grain. Each stalk had a full head of fine grain.

F. G. Smith, in Wallace's Monthly for May, thus chats on the subject of horses' tails, and that there is reason in what he says few, we think, will gainsay:

How rare is a bad horse with a rat tail! But yet what an eye-sore they are. But again, how rare is a good horse with a bushy tail at the root. They usually are wanting in energy and quality. A great many people—and horsemen, too—are frequently carried away with a horse simply because he has a long bushy tail and mane, when, perhaps, they are the only attractive points about him. This may seem to be rather a technical question to base an argument upon, but is it not true? Long bushy tails and manes are certainly a draft horse's characteristics, while the fine tail belongs to the standard bred trotting and thoroughbred families.

The human and brute families are essentially the same in this respect. The Indian has coarse, black hair always until crossed with the white race—a people of culture and higher attainments and much faster. A New Foundland dog has long, coarse hair and a bushy tail, but the fleet greyhound is just the opposite. Indeed, coarse-haired people and bushy-tailed animals seem to indicate sluggishness and a slow-and-go-easy life, while fine hair denotes energy and get there every day in the week, no matter how long the road. There may be exceptions to this rule, but if so, I have failed to notice them. Nearly every great trotting sire and celebrated brood mare the world has ever produced have had light tails. Of course, some horses may have long tails. That is all right enough if the hair is silken-like, and not bushy at the root. Blue Bull was almost a spike-tail, while Rydsky's Hambletonian, Almont, Aberdeen, Seely's American Star, Mambrino Chief, Pilot, Jr., Harold, Dictator, Belmont, Henry Clay, Nutwood, Mambrino Patchen, all possessed moderately light tails or inclined to be long and thick were certainly very fine-haired.

Lewis County S. S. Convention.

The Lewis County Sunday School Convention will be held at Poplar Flat, July 22nd and 23rd.

All Sunday school workers are invited to be on hand and participate in the proceedings of the meeting. The ministers of Lewis County are specially urged to be present with speeches upon subjects which will be assigned to them in due time. Petty excuses for absence and neglect of preparation will not be received from the preachers.

All Superintendents of Sunday schools in the county are members of the convention, and they are expected to be present and contribute to the work. Full statistics are wanted respecting the Sunday school work in the county for information for the State meeting.

Preparations are being made for the entertainment of all. Good music for the occasion. Rev. C. F. Oney, of Tollesboro, is Chairman.

ALL QUIET AT CHICAGO.

THE WHEAT MARKET IS WITHOUT AN EXCITING FEATURE.

How the Market Opened and Remained. The Total Number of Failures so Far Reported Reach Nineteen—Phil Armour Talks on the State of Affairs—Notes.

CHICAGO, June 17.—The exciting scenes of yesterday and the day before were not witnessed at the opening of the board of trade this morning. The few people who had gathered in the galleries before the opening soon tired of the calm which prevailed and departed. It was given out that Kershaw would announce at 11 o'clock whether he would be able to meet the claims against him or not.

It is generally conceded that everything depends on Kershaw's action. Some members are of the opinion that he will pull through, but the majority are very doubtful on the subject. Scarcely any trading is being done and the prices were barely fluctuating at slight fractions. There are rumors of impending failures, but everything awaits the announcement to be made by Kershaw at 11 o'clock. In the meantime business is practically at a standstill.

A notice was posted up in the window of Kershaw & Co.'s office this morning stating that the firm expected to pay all differences.

When the market opened at 9:30 the first sales were 7c for June and 7c for July. The latter option then sold down to 7c 3-4c, but quickly went up to 7c 1-8c, and at, 9:38 a.m., was 7c.

The failures of yesterday numbered fifteen. They were as follows, with an estimate of the liabilities: Crosby & Co., $75,000; H. K. Matthews, $60,000; J. A. Edwards & Co., $50,000; M. B. Crafts & Co., $40,000; B. J. McCleary & Co., $25,000; Pickering & Co., $20,000; S. D. Eridge & Co., $10,000; Gregg, Son & Co., $15,000; Hard Bro. & Co., $10,000; J. H. Yost & Co., $10,000; Hibbard & Co., $10,000; M. S. Robinson & Co., $8,000; Yourt & Bearly, $5,000; S. C. Orr, $5,000. Total $361,000.

Including the failures of the day before, M. Rosenfeld & Co., Hamilton & B.ine and E. E. Bailey & Co., there is a total of nineteen, with aggregate liabilities approximating $2,000,000. Some of these failures were caused by inability of the parties to reach their outside customers, while others were caused by the failure of Rosenfeld & Co., and the suspension of payments by Kershaw & Co.

It is said that in the majority of cases the embarrassed firms will come out all right as soon as their trades can be settled and that in one or two instances the books will actually show profits. In addition to those whose failure was brought about by either of the causes given, there are some who were in the deal on their own responsibility and simply got caught where they could not help themselves.

F. D. Armour said this morning: "The amount of loss to this market is not nearly so severe as some of the unfortunate ones are claiming. There were more losses on the advance, for when this clique was advancing the market we who were stranded out between the different markets paid out our money. But most of the failures so far announced were of men who broke before this panic, and who were simply waiting for a good excuse. They have been thus for twelve months, some of them. Nobody can lose money on Kershaw for he is marginally way down. He tells me this and I know he would not lie to me."

"He would have gone through yesterday if there had not been a muddle at the bank. He came in here and said that he would pay down to 70 cents. The wheat is worth that, and the man who sells July at New York and buys cash wheat here has 5 cents a bushel insecure. I offered 7c 3-4c for one-half million bushels of wheat to a bank yesterday when the market on the board was nominally 70 cents, and the bank would not sell it. The banks all say they will not sell. There would have been a great deal of cash wheat taken yesterday but you could not do business. The banks would not talk to you. They were too busy with margins."

A TEMPERANCE BATTLE.

The Texas Prohibition Struggle—The Fight in Other States.

CHICAGO, June 17.—The National Association of Wholesale Liquor Dealers held an important meeting last night. J. M. Atherton, of Louisville, presided. In addition to the local members present, a Texas delegation was in attendance. Whether they discussed the local fight in Chicago is not known. The gentlemen say they did not. They say they had enough to do in preparing for the prohibition fight in Texas. The prohibition amendment there will be voted upon August 4, and the fight is red hot. One of the wholesale men says that, in what the $100 assessment is for in Chicago, to fight prohibition in Texas.

Mr. Atherton, the president, admits it is a hard battle, but thinks the liquor men will win. Then prohibition in Tennessee comes to a vote September 23, and it must be met. That is not all. West Virginia, Oregon, Dakota, Wyoming Territory, to say nothing of Michigan and Missouri, are causing the liquor men trouble. So the National Association did not come here to help the Chicago dealers, but rather to be helped. An assessment of ten cents per barrel was made on old rye and bourbon, and requests for funds made to the wholesalers. Every distiller, he said, does his level best, one in Cincinnati giving $10,000.

WILL Probably Not Hang.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 17.—William M. Springer telegraphs from Santa Fe that Governor Ross, of New Mexico, had added thirty days to the thirty days' respite already granted to O'Donnell, the Bloomington man, who, while returning home from service in the army, accidentally, it is claimed, shot a man, and is now under sentence of death at Sorocco for the alleged crime.

He Would Not Explain.

WICHITA, Kan., June 17.—J. E. Johnson, of the firm of Johnson & Blackwelder, and one of the wealthiest men of the city, was found in his room to-day suffering from a pistol shot wound near the heart. Hopes are entertained that his life may be saved. How the shooting occurred is a mystery. Johnson refuses to make any statement.

Taking Them Back.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 17.—A number of the train men who were arrested for complicity in the Pan-Handle robbery have been taken back by the company. They have shown a disposition to do what is right, and the officials intend to give them a trial.

EAST WAREHAM, Mass., June 17.—At 8:15 o'clock last night the north end of the long bridge at Agawam works, on the main street, gave way to the rush of swelling waters, and let an immense volume of water down on the next bridge below at Steep Bank. Communication was cut off from the country to the north and east, and late in the night the whole country to the north of East Wareham village was under water. Several hundred acres of gardens, grass land and wood land is under water, and nothing but boats can reach the houses. Great damage will ensue.

Women Voting in Wisconsin.

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—The returns from the local elections, which are now all received, show that several thousand women voted for city, village and township officers under the new law which enables them to do so at any election where officers are chosen who have any connection with the schools. Thousands more wanted to do so in other places, but the election officers, not knowing of the law, refused their votes. These women say they will get their votes in next time, even if they have to obtain additional legislation to accomplish it.
